SEARCH HOME OF CARMAN

In Hope of Finding Weapon in the Freeport Murder Mystery

WOMAN DID SHOOTING

Which Killed Mrs. Louise Bailey, is Opinion of the Sheriff—Witnesses Will Testify Woman Was in Physician's Yard Shortly Before the Murder.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Freeport, July 3.—The name of Dr. Edwin Carman's wife did not appear on the list of witnesses summoned for the inquest this afternoon into the death of Mrs. Louise Bailey who was murdered in Dr. Carman's office last Tuesday night. Since almost every one else in and about the physician's house that night had been notified to appear at the inquest the omission of Mrs. Carman's name caused much comment. The district attorney explained that he had excellent reason for not calling Mrs. Carman this afternoon. It was understood that he desired to reserve her testimony for the grand jury unimpaird by any premature revelations at the inquest.

Among the witnesses called were Archie Post, Joseph Golder and Miss Hazel Combs, patients who were waiting in Dr. Carman's outer office when Mrs. Bailey was murdered.

These three have told stories which did not agree with the tale told by Mrs. Carman who has declared that she was in her bedroom when the fatal shot was fired and for half an hour before.

A man named Burke, a resident of a neighboring village, had been summoned, it was said, to repeat a story he had told a detective about having seen a woman in white running away from the window of the doctor's office immediately after the shot was fired.

Miss Combs has said that she saw Mrs. Carman on the front porch of her home a few minutes before the murder was committed.

Talking over the telephone today Mrs. Carman declared that she wanted to testify at the inquest and stood ready to tell all she knew. "I realize fully that in a measure I am under suspicion," she said, "and that at the present moment I am restrained as to my movements. No one need fear, however, that I am going to try to run away or to shirk any ordeal that I may be put through."

Mrs. Carman denied a story that several weeks ago that she had attacked a patient in her husband's office. "I knew what that report referred to, however," she added. "There was what might be termed a scene in the doctor's office with a woman. There was a woman in the office; but there was nothing serious, no violence and no serious conflict."

The physician's wife repeated her declaration that she had never seen Mrs. Bailey until she looked upon her dead body at the morgue yesterday afternoon.

"Were you jealous of Mrs. Bailey?" she was asked.

"No, indeed," she answered.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]
Freeport, N. Y., July 3.—Search of the grounds of the Carman home, which extended even to an examination of wells and cesspools, has failed to reveal the weapon with which Mrs. Louise Bailey of Hempstead was murdered on Tuesday night while preparing to leave the office of Dr. Edwin Carman.

Freeport policemen with lanterns last night went over every foot of ground about the Carman place while others drained cesspools and wells. The unusual scene attracted a large crowd of villagers. No one, however, was permitted beyond the sidewalks.

Lewis J. Smith, district attorney, announced today that he had found two men, both negroes, who declared they had seen a man run away from the window of Dr. Carman's office through which the shot was fired that killed Mrs. Bailey. The man, the witnesses said, carried his hat in his hand but the best description they could give of him was that he was of medium size.

At the same time Sheriff Pettit announced that as yet there did not appear to be sufficient evidence at hand to warrant him in making an arrest. Sheriff Pettit spent three hours with Dr. and Mrs. Carman last night.

"If there is an arrest it will be a woman," Sheriff Pettit said. "Every man in the case has been eliminated."

One man, who has been under suspicion, the sheriff explained had proved an alibi. He had been questioned several times. Sheriff Pettit said, and had accounted for every moment of his time on the night of the murder.

The funeral of Mrs. Bailey will be held on Saturday.

Henry W. Denison Dies at Tokio After Having Been Stricken With Paralysis

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Tokio, July 3.—Henry Willard Denison, legal adviser of the Japanese department of foreign affairs since 1880, died today in St. Luke's American hospital. Mr. Denison was stricken with paralysis a week ago.

The announcement of Mr. Denison's death was withheld for several hours in accordance with Japanese custom in order to permit the emperor to confer the decoration of the Grand Cordon of the Order of Paulownia on the dead man.

An eulogistic statement in regard to the services of Mr. Denison was later issued by the Japanese foreign office. In it he was hailed as one of the greatest benefactors of Japan. It concluded:

"The whole Japanese nation joins in the sentiment of thankfulness and indebtedness for the distinguished services of Mr. Denison and in the expression of sorrow at his departure."

Henry Willard Denison was born at Guildhall, Vermont, May 11, 1846, and studied law at the Columbian (now the George Washington) University. His first connection with Japan was as American vice-consul at Yokohama. Later he was appointed by the Japanese government as legal adviser to the ministry of foreign affairs and his advice was asked by the Japanese government in connection with every phase of its diplomatic relations with foreign countries. He was highly regarded by all the foreign ministers under whom he served and by the Japanese nation in general.

Mr. Denison was appointed to represent Japan in drafting the treaty of peace with Russia at Portsmouth, N. H., in 1905, and he was also the technical delegate of Japan to the second peace conference at The Hague. Mr. Denison received several decorations from the Japanese government. He married in 1873 Helen Wilder Cross of New York.

Strikers Voting Today on Proposition of Company To Return to Their Work

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Pittsburg, July 3.—Westinghouse strikers today were voting on whether they would accept the proposition of the companies and return to work. Balloting began at Turtle Creek at 7 o'clock and continued almost without interruption, each striker being provided with a printed ballot.

Details of what is believed to have been an attempt to destroy the residence of E. M. Herr, president of the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing company were made public today when it became known that Robert Miller, a steam heating contractor, was in a Wilkesburg hospital with a bullet hole in his hand. According to the story, Miller saw a man creeping along a hedge at the Herr residence in Edgewood Tuesday night. He attempted to intercept the man, and three shots were fired at him, one bullet going through his hand. Four pounds of dynamite with a twenty foot fuse attached were found on the Herr lawn.

Troopers of the state constabulary, county detectives and the police were today hunting for the man who shot Miller.

NORTH SIDE FOREIGNER RUNS AMUCK

Empties Six-shooter at Countryman, After Broil With Another—Flees Along River Bank

Trayan Popp, aged 25, a Roumanian, ran amuck in North Newark shortly after noon Friday, and after firing six revolver shots in the direction of Jacob Croi, aged 23, also a Roumanian, and driving pedestrians to cover generally, backed away from the frightened neighbors who peered out to see what was the trouble, and lost himself in the weeds along the bank of the Licking river. The shooting occurred in Case avenue, between Leroy and North streets.

Police were on his trail late in the afternoon.

According to the story of Croi, who seems to have been Popp's intended victim, the attempt was unprovoked. Witnesses of the affair said Popp had been drinking and became involved in an altercation with John Mark, a fellow countryman.

Mark is said to have struck Popp in the face with his lunch pail, whereupon Popp left his assailant and went to his boarding house in Leroy street, corner of Case avenue.

Croi escorted Mark to his home in North street and was returning down Case avenue, near the intersection of Leroy street when Popp emerged from his boarding house and called to Croi. At this juncture a woman living across the street shouted to Croi to stay away, that Popp had a revolver in his hand. Croi said he believed if he were carrying a gun and the latter said he was not. Croi then told him if he had a gun he had best keep it in his pocket.

At that instant, witnesses said, Popp was almost directly opposite Croi, who was passing along the west side of Case avenue. Popp opened fire and Croi ran.

The angered Roumanian is said to have fired six shots in Croi's direction, and then, without stopping to see whether any of the bullets had struck the latter, ran in the direction of the river.

Persons who saw the shooting from a distance believed Croi had been hit, and an emergency call was sent in for Bazler & Bradley's ambulance. Two police officers accompanied the ambulance, and after learning particulars, started on a hunt for Popp.

Croi and others in the neighborhood at the time, deny that he had any trouble with Popp, and believe the shooting was an attempt on the part of the latter to have revenge for a blow said to have been administered by Mark, who, it is said, had also been drinking.

Croi lives at 18 Case avenue. He said he has known Popp for three years, both being employed in the American Bottle company's plant. Croi denied that he and Popp ever had any trouble.

THREE HUNDRED SHEEP KILLED IN COLLISION

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Cincinnati, O., July 3.—About 300 sheep were killed in a collision of freight cars on the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad bridge over the Ohio river today. Three hundred were saved. Many of the animals dropped between the bridge girders and were drowned.

The sheep were in two cars at the rear of a Louisville & Nashville freight train that was backing southward over the bridge. As the train neared the Kentucky side, the engineer noticed that the track was blocked against him and he stopped the train. A C. H. & D. freight train backing onto the bridge from the Kentucky side, crashed into the end of the standing freight. The two sheep cars received the brunt of the shock and were demolished.

AGED COUPLE HAD DESPERATE FIGHT KILLING ROBBER

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Yorkville, Ill., July 3.—In a desperate fight in the dark early today with a robber who had invaded their home, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Grimwood, an aged couple, killed the intruder. The man died as Mrs. Grimwood was throttling him. The robber, apparently 20 years old, wore a new suit of clothes. In the pocket was a receipt from a Chicago department store for a suit and it bore the name of William Davis. Slips showing apparent profits of $5000 or $6000 on the board of trade of Chicago also were found. The police believe the clothing was stolen and that the papers belong to another man.

The noise made by the invader awoke the Grimwoods and the husband seized a club kept beside the bed. The robber had picked up an icepick. Neither could see the other and they lunged about the room striking furiously. Now and then Grimwood got home a blow with the club, while the thief occasionally reached the other with the pick.

At length one of Grimwood's swings crashed on the robber's head and he fell. Mrs. Grimwood, who had been awakened by the rushing of feet, leaped upon the robber, seizing him by the throat. She choked him while the husband struck a light and went after a rope to bind the man. The robber died as her husband returned.

CHICAGO YOUTH IS FIRST FOURTH OF JULY VICTIM

Chicago, July 3.—John Sullivan, aged 13 years, became Chicago's first Fourth of July victim today when he died of burns caused by exploding fireworks. Young Sullivan and three companions who were also severely injured, unearched the explosives from a rubbish pile at the abandoned plant of a fire works company which went out of business with the success of the same Fourth movement.

The boys loaded their booty on a wagon and then climbed on themselves. What caused the explosion has not been ascertained.

CROWDS OF MOURNERS AT CHAPEL

Marched Past Catafalques Where Bodies of Royalty Lay in State

AGED EMPEROR CHEERED

As He Left Suburban Palace for the Hofburg—Bodies of Dead Archduke and Duchess Repose in Silver Coffins.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Vienna, July 3.—Crowds of mourners today visited the chapel of the Hofburg where the coffins containing the bodies of the Archduke Francis Ferdinand and Duchess of Hohenberg lay in state. A continuous procession marched past the catafalques.

Emperor Francis Joseph left the suburban palace at Schoenbrunn early today for the Hofburg. As he passed through the streets thousands of people cheered him.

Princess William of Weld, wife of the new ruler of Albania today left Durazzo with her children, in consequence of the critical situation there. She has gone to Bucarest.

It is generally believed that the departure of the Princess foreshadowed the abdication of Prince William.

Although the court chapel was not opened until 8 o'clock the crowds began to assemble outside before dawn and the line of people soon extended for a mile before the Hofburg.

The bodies lay in silver coffins, ornamented with gold.

That of the Archduke was decorated with gold bands and oak leaves, while that of the Duchess was covered with lilies. They were on a low catafalque approached by two steps and surrounded by tall candlesticks in which enormous wax candles burned.

More candles burned in silver grandoles placed at each corner. Lifeguards formed a guard of honor. In front of the coffin, reposed two wreaths of small white roses on a bed ground of palms and large white roses with red and white streamers and bearing the simple inscription, "Sonia, Max, Ernest."

They were from the Archduke's children. Other floral offerings numbering several hundreds were placed in apartments adjoining the chapel. Masses were said at all the altars of the chapel from 8 o'clock in the morning until noon. At 10 o'clock the court choir entered and sang the "Miserere."

From noon until 1 o'clock the bells of one of the city churches tolled.

COL. ROOSEVELT TO TAKE REST OF SIX WEEKS

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 3.—Col. Roosevelt gave today, a fresh demonstration of how he meant to observe the doctor's decree for a six weeks' rest. As a special concession to his medical advisers, the former president slept a bare half hour longer than usual. Then for an hour he was at work with Jim McGrath, his political secretary. As soon as that was over with the horses were brought out and with his daughter, Mrs. Richard Derby, Jr., he galloped off for a long ride. Later in the day he was to see his secretary again.

The rule, which the colonel said he would enforce inflexibly for the next six weeks was that of seeing few visitors and none at all with whom he had not made appointments previously.

JOSEPH CHAMBERLAIN.

Joseph Chamberlain Died of Heart Failure In London Last Night At 10:30 O'clock

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

London, July 3.—Joseph Chamberlain died here last night.

The death of Joseph Chamberlain, which removes one of the most striking figures from British politics in the past generation, came as an entire surprise as the condition of his health was not publicly known to be any worse than at any time in the past two or three years.

Mrs. Chamberlain, who never left her husband's side since he was stricken with paralysis seven years ago, and his son, Austen Chamberlain, were with Mr. Chamberlain when death occurred at 10:30 o'clock last night at his London residence. The event cast a gloom over the London season, which was at its height.

Tariff reforms, which with imperialism, were the chief policies for which Joseph Chamberlain was spokesman, when enforced retirement through paralysis occurred, have suffered an almost complete eclipse, his son, Austen, being almost the only British statesman who advocates it on all occasions.

The cause of Mr. Chamberlain's death was officially announced today as heart failure. Although he had been gradually sinking since Tuesday the members of the family had preferred that his condition, should not become publicly known.

Prosecutor L. E. Kerlin, of Darke county came here today to confer with the legal department of the state bureau of accounting with reference to the case. It was officially stated that it had not definitely decided just what further action would be taken.

BODY OF MAN AND TWO WOMEN FOUND IN SWAMP

Atlanta, Ga., July 3.—The body of S. F. Bennett and two unidentified women were found in a swamp at East Point, a suburb of Atlanta, early today. Wounds indicated that all three had been shot. The bodies of the women were found with their hands bound. Bennett lay in the open a few yards away. The coroner of Fulton county has been summoned to investigate.

According to the police there were indications that Bennett killed the two women with a shotgun and, after covering their bodies with brush, fastened the gun to a stump, stood before it and discharged it with a twig. The charge tore a great hole in his chest.

While the women have not yet been identified, it is thought they were Bennett's wife and mother-in-law. Bennett, who lived in East Point, was last seen on Thursday. He formerly resided at Logansville, Georgia.

The women later were identified as Mrs. Flossie Bennett, 17 years old Bennett's wife, and her mother, Mrs. Mattie Tolbert.

Bennett was a brother of N. O. Bennett, member of the Georgia legislature.

The police believe Bennett killed his wife by strangling her two days ago and that he lured her mother to the scene and shot her yesterday, afterwards firing a charge into the body of Mrs. Bennett.

DELEGATES REPORT TO PRESIDENT

Will Remain at Washington and Keep in Touch With the Situation

ENVOYS ARE EXPECTED

At Capital to Spend Recess Until Mexican Delegates Agree on Terms of Pacification—Predicted Carranza Will Not Agree to the Conference.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM]

Washington, July 3.—The American delegates to the Niagara Falls mediation conference—Justice Lamar and Frederick W. Lehmann, returned to the capital today and conferred with President Wilson and Secretary Bryan. While the Niagara Falls conference is in recess awaiting General Carranza's canvass of his generals under the plan of Guadalupe as to sending delegates to treat with Huerta's emissaries, the American delegates will remain in Washington; the three South American mediators will also return here shortly and keep in touch with the situation awaiting the next move.

Iglesias Calderon, one of the constitutionalist leaders expected to represent Carranza if he sends delegates, declared today he did not believe the canvass of constitutionalist chiefs would authorize sending delegates to treat with Huerta unless they went to discuss terms.

He gave it as his opinion that the proposal to discuss the internal affairs of Mexico would be rejected.

Alfredo Breceda, Rafael Zubaran and Luis Cabrera, all of the constitutionalist junta here, held conferences but did not see the returning American delegates.

John R. Silliman, vice-consul at Sault Ste. Marie, left Washington today for Mexico as President Wilson's personal envoy to attempt to induce constitutionalist leaders to mediate their differences with Huerta and to bring about harmony between Carranza and Villa.

Mr. Silliman had a final conference with the president. While he would not discuss his mission to Mexico, it was suggested by officials that the president expects him to be influential in continuing the work begun at Niagara Falls.

While Carranza is canvassing his generals on meeting the Huerta delegates, Mr. Silliman is expected to tell the constitutionalists of the importance attached to that proposal by the Washington administration.

Mr. Silliman will be raised to the full rank of consul later, but not at this time, because such an act might possibly be construed as recognition of Huerta. The president, however, has issued an executive order authorizing the appointment, and the nomination will be sent to the senate when the Mexican difficulty is solved.

President Wilson greeted the American delegates warmly.

"I'm proud of the way you represented the United States," said he.

The conference was brief and an engagement was made for a longer one later. As the delegates were leaving the members of the cabinet were arriving. All the secretaries congratulated Mr. Lehmann and Justice Lamar.

A long period of waiting for the constitutionalists to decide whether they would meet Huerta's delegates to discuss Mexico's internal disturbances confronted President Wilson and his advisers today. Some time would elapse, representatives of Carranza said, before the revolutionary leader would be able to obtain a vote of his military chiefs on the proposed conference.

With next moves in mediation depending on that decision, administration officials continued exerting their influence to bring about a meeting between envoys of the fighting factions. Primed with instructions on the American government's attitude toward all phases of the problem, John R. Silliman planned to leave here today for Carranza's provisional capital. He was to help in settling the breach between Villa and Carranza and to impress upon the revolutionary leaders the need for early restoration of peace through establishment of a provisional government such as has been suggested at the Niagara Falls mediation proceedings. Mr. Silliman was to go to Sault Ste. Marie where Carranza temporarily had set up his headquarters.

Contest Editor's Query Column

The Advocate will be glad to answer all legitimate questions regarding the contest through the Contest Editor's query column. Questions may be sent by mail or telephone but the answers will be printed in this column so that no contestant will have any advantage over another.

Charles E. Todd, 901 Felton avenue, Columbus, writes to the Advocate:

"I wish to congratulate you on the fairness of your recent contest. Although I only had 59 correct answers it was my own fault and not the fault of the pictures. I should have had 65 correct answers but made my mistakes in eliminating them after I had studied them out but found so many answers for some of the pictures that when I came to fill them in found it very hard to pick the winner. The only pictures that I should have missed were Nos. 2, 42, 67, 69 and 70, but I could not see them as the artist saw them. I think 'Leisure Hours With Nature,' 'Magic Melody' and 'Back to the Sea' are the worst ever yet, not the Dutchman puts it. My wife wanted me to put in 'Carried by Storm' for No. 66 after I had my coupons all filled in, but I told her I was going to take a chance on what I had on them. I did and lost. But I am not kicking and am willing to take my medicine, although it is a bitter pill after having my hand on that Ford ready to take a spin. I had promised several of my friends a joy ride, but will have to disappoint them unless you decide to have another contest soon. I have enjoyed the contest very much and am sorry that I was such a poor judge when it came to eliminating. Wish you and your valuable and newsy paper success, and hope that you will have another contest soon. I have enjoyed your 'brickbats and bouquets' very much."

Mrs. J. A. R., Newark, writes: "I see you have been getting lots of letters from many contestants, some 'brickbats,' but more who think as I do. We had all the chances in the world. Your answers were as good as any. Of course some of their answers might look like they ought to be the ones, but yours were as good, if not better. It is the first contest that ever I took part in and I only got 32 correct solutions of the 70, but I hope you will give us the pleasure of trying another contest soon. I will say I had more correct solutions marked in the book than I put on the coupons. Thank you for the pleasure I had in solving the pictures."

SUPT. A. B. GRAHAM LEAVES OHIO.

A. B. Graham, who for nine years has been superintendent of agricultural extension work in Ohio, as conducted by the Ohio State University, has resigned to accept a similar position with the newly established New York State School of Agriculture at Long Island. In this new field of work, Mr. Graham will not only receive a larger salary but he will have an opportunity to do more intensive extension work as contrasted with that which is done in Ohio, which might be termed extensive. He will take up his new duties about July 15. Prof. Graham leaves Ohio with an enviable record behind him. Starting in 1901, without the aid of a single instructor or assistant, he has built up a department of agricultural extension which is recognized as one of the best in the United States and one to which other states have looked for help in establishing similar departments. When extension teaching was started in Ohio nine years ago only two other states were doing agricultural extension work and that on a small scale. In leaving Ohio at the present time, Mr. Graham feels that it is opportune as he says he cannot serve to best advantage two organizations having authority over agricultural extension which will be the case in Ohio according to present plans. The University will have charge of hiring extension instructors while the Agricultural Commission will direct the work.

DIABETIC LEG AMPUTATED.

Physicians know that operations in Diabetes are nearly always fatal, commonly making centers for gangrene, which often appears in this disease. Therefore, the following successful operation should interest physicians and diabetics.

Patient, a San Francisco business man, was taken to the St. Winifred Hospital with a gangrened leg. It was an old case of Diabetes and the gangrene had extended so far that the severance was between the knee and the thigh.

The physician did not attempt the operation till he had eliminated the sugar with Fulton's Diabetic Compound. The consulting physicians felt it would be fatal, but the operating physician knew what he could do after he had eliminated the sugar, and proceeded with the operation.

The fourteenth day the stitches were removed, the wound showing healthful pink color. The patient left the hospital the fourth week.

"Good Health Is Largely a Question of Habit" Says

Madame Ise'bell
"Don't Nourish Physical Idiosyncrasies"

GET THE HABIT OF GOOD HEALTH.

Most of us have heard that familiar expression of the country side: "She is enjoying poor health," and smiled over it, yet we know some people who have such a fondness for their physical ailments that they might almost be described as "enjoying" them. They will speak of "my rheumatism," "my neuralgia," or "my nervous system" that system that is inherited from my mother's family," as if there was something peculiar and precious in these possessions.

It is a trait in human nature to exalt and magnify its possessions. One of Shakespeare's characters points with pride to his unlovely kitchen wench as "a poor thing, but mine own." And so it is with each of us; we may know in our heart that our possession would not pass for much in the world's estimation, but still we cherish it, even its deformities, just because it is ours. And this explains the woman who "enjoys poor health."

She has so little to enjoy in her narrow life that her thoughts naturally turn to her physical well being which comes to be of first importance.

While this interest in one's physical idiosyncrasies may under some conditions be natural, it is neither wise nor healthful. We should look out, not in; deny pain rather than endure it.

This does not mean neglect or refusing to take warning by physical symptoms that may point to trouble of a serious nature. Without going into the various forms of mind cure that have become prominent of late years, I want to emphasize the wonderful curative effect of an optimistic attitude towards any ailment that may beset us. Pain is not peculiar to any one person; your ailment is no better, no worse than that of your neighbors; there is nothing peculiar in your brand of neuralgia or your inherited nerves. They are very much like those "enjoyed" by all the world.

I know a little girl who always throws her aches and pains out of the window and then she slams the window down hard so they won't get back. That is not a bad idea, certainly a wiser plan than assuming that we have to live with these forever.

Madame Ise'bell

WHAT NEURASTHENIA IS

Neurasthenia is a condition of exhaustion of the nervous system. The causes are varied. Continuous work, mental or physical, without proper vacation periods, without proper attention to diet and exercise, also worry over the struggle for success, are the most common causes. Excesses of almost any kind may produce it. Some diseases, like the grip, will cause neurasthenia. So also will a severe shock, intense anxiety or grief.

The symptoms are over-sensitiveness, irritability, a disposition to worry over trifles, headache, possibly nausea.

The treatment is one of nutrition of the nerve cells, requiring a non-alcoholic tonic. As the nerves get their nourishment from the blood the treatment must be directed toward building up the blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills act directly on the blood and with proper regulation of the diet have proved of the greatest benefit in many cases of neurasthenia. A tendency to anemia, or bloodlessness, shown by most neurasthenic patients, is also corrected by these tonic pills. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Two useful books "Diseases of the Nervous System" and "What to Eat and How to Eat" will be sent free by the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., if you mention this paper.

"BURGOO" SUPPER ENJOYED AT CAMP ON SOUTH FORK

Mr. Frank Pfeiffer, the well known West Newark restaurateur, royally entertained a number of his friends Thursday at his camp on the South Fork of the Licking river at a "Burgoo" supper, which was enjoyed by speeches and songs of excellent quality. After the good things had been partaken of, Danny Davis was selected as toastmaster and kept things lively for the next two hours by calling on those present to assist in enlivening the occasion. Toastmaster Davis in introducing the first speaker said the time was propitious on account of the close proximity of July Fourth for an address on "Safety First" and introduced Deputy State Fire Marshal John Baird. Mr. Baird is an orator of no mean ability and he leaned into the subject with the force and eloquence of a Deane, telling of the dangers and hazards to be encountered on our natal holiday. He spoke of the necessity of caution and the remedies to be administered in case of accident and concluded by paying a splendid tribute to those who were responsible for the day's entertainment. Paul Jones next gave a recitation which elicited much applause and the young man was forced to respond to an encore. The host, Mr. Pfeiffer, was called upon and addressed but modestly refrained stating that he was there to do the entertaining in a different manner. Excellent music was furnished by a quartet composed of J. Kelly, P. Jones, P. Hayden and C. Nicholas. Pfeiffer Hayden had charge of the events of the day while J. Kelly was chef cook and Charles Keller head waiter.

CHALLENGE CUP COMES TO THE UNITED STATES

(Associated Press Telegram) Henley on Thames, July 3.—The coveted grand challenge cup comes to the United States. Two American eight oared crews, the Union Boat Club of Boston and the Harvard University second crew—were left to fight tomorrow for its possession by victories today in the semi-final heats over Winnipeg and Mayence respectively.

Both were most exciting races, rowed almost in record time and won only after a hard struggle near the finishing line in each instance. Miserably hot weather and a strong wind did not cause either of the American crews to vary the almost perfect watermanship they have shown since their arrival here and which has called forth the admiration of English experts. The race between Harvard and Winnipeg which came first was a hard one and was rowed in the best time recorded at this year's regatta, seven minutes flat. This has been beaten only on three occasions in the grand challenge cup since official time records have been kept. In 1891 Leander rowed the final in six minutes 51 seconds and this was equaled by New College, Oxford, in the final 1897. Leander in 1905 did the course in six minutes 58 seconds.

ELEPHANT CHAINED TO PARK FLOOR FOR PAST EIGHT YEARS

(Associated Press Telegram) New York, July 3.—The precautions necessary to restrain Gunda, one of the biggest elephants in captivity, which recently led many persons to protest against his being chained to the floor, have caused the New York zoological park authorities to consider doing away with him. Gunda is valued at $10,000. Gunda is so vicious that no one would care to buy him. Heavy chains have held Gunda in one place for many years, giving him only enough freedom to lift his feet a few inches from the floor. The eight years that he has been in the park have been marked with trouble for the attendants. He had on several occasions tried to kill his keeper. Gunda is 18 years old and is nine feet, five inches in height. He was captured in Assam, a northern province of India. He had killed several men in India before being brought to this country but the fact was unknown until after his arrival.

ANOTHER AIR VICTIM

KILBANE HAD EASY VICTORY OVER K. O. MARS

Cincinnati, July 3.—Johnny Kilbane, champion featherweight, fought 10 rounds here last night with "Knockout" Mars of this city. No decision was given, but the champion had the better of most of the rounds. Kilbane was cautious in the first three rounds and Mars was aggressive, in the next two rounds. Kilbane forced the fighting and took a commanding lead. In the last five rounds Mars continually went into clinches and hung on to Kilbane so that the latter was unable to land a decisive blow. The newspaper and popular verdict awarded the fight to Kilbane. In the preliminaries George Watson of Columbus won from the "Cuban Wonder" of Cincinnati in the third round of what was to have been an eight-round go. The referee stopped the bout after the Cincinnati boy had been knocked down several times. Artie Root of Cleveland and "Toots" Wise of Cincinnati boxed six rounds to a draw. Both boys showed much cleverness.

Has Earned Renomination.

Gov. James M. Cox is entitled to renomination at the hands of his party in Ohio. The record of his two years administration should be a sufficient guarantee that he will receive the honor.

A vast amount of misconception has been afloat over the state regarding the governor and what he has done. But there is evidence that this misunderstanding is rapidly passing away; the air is clearing for a better appreciation of the situation, for a better comprehension of the one issue which should determine the result of the Democratic primary.

Has Gov. Cox made good? That is the issue. The governor's supporters insist that he has made good. His opponents must prove he has not, or concede his renomination.

The governor was elected two years ago on a platform demanding the enactment of a long list of progressive measures. The endorsement he received at the polls was an endorsement of the platform—a command to the governor and the legislature elected with him to write into the statutes an unusual number of forward-looking measures for the betterment of the state.

Upon the Toledo platform Mr. Cox was elected. Upon that platform he has stood all the time and stands now. He will go before the Democrats of the state, asking renomination, upon that platform.

If Mr. Cox has done aught in way of getting legislation of which his party does not approve, the fault goes back two years and belongs not to him but to the Toledo platform and to the nearly 440,000 Ohio voters who endorsed him at the polls.

For the Democrats of Ohio to deny the governor a renomination would be a confession of error committed in 1912. It would be a repudiation of faith which a record majority of Ohio voters accepted at the polls. It would be a repudiation of a record to which progressives the country over have given unstinted praise.

The Toledo platform was written in plain English, and it meant what it said. Its purpose was as plain two years ago as now. The only difference is that in 1912 the platform was

Hager and Goodwin: "How are you, Goodwin?"
"Mighty bad. Sure it's starvation that's staring me in the face."
"Begorra, it can't be very pleasant for either of you."
"Yes after what my boss said to me I wouldn't work for him any more."
"What did he say to you?"
"Why, he said, 'You are fired.'"
Hager—Do you think cigar smoking created when he died.
Goodwin—Well, there is nothing like a hot finish.

Jager—What is this simple life they are talking so much about?
Goodwin—O, my brother leads it; he is in the insane asylum.
Jager—Do you think cigar smoking is hard on the eyes?
Goodwin—Sure; I was nearly blind before I found one worth picking up this morning.

Hager—I once fell down a hill with ten bottles of beer and didn't break one of them.
Goodwin—How did you accomplish such a wonderful feat?
Hager—I had them inside of me.

Goodwin—I want booze; I have no respect for water since I seen that sign in the suburbs that said, "Water works."

Hager—They say that whisky has killed more men than bullets.
Goodwin—Well, I would sooner be full of whisky than bullets.

STALLED ON A GREASED TRACK

Paragraphs

Age of Plain Speech.

The modern trend, as toward frankness—not boldness, as some insist. Biology has done much to stamp out prudery. When the necessity arrives, men and women of today speak together of things that would have shocked their self-conscious ancestors. Yet women are as delicately womanly and men as thoroughly manly as when the Mr. Broadbrim and Miss Prim ambled along historic byways, or Sir Knight wore his colors upon his shield.—Lippincott's.

Let's Play Safe.

How is Zanesville going to celebrate the "glorious fourth"—safe or sane? The answer rests with the people of Zanesville themselves—the parents of Zanesville children in particular.—Zanesville Signal.

Must Love Her.

A Boston Y. M. C. A. man has decided to forfeit a $600,000 legacy and marry the woman of his choice. He evidently considers her to be worth her weight in gold.—Pittsburg Gazette Times.

Attack on Whitman.

Col. Roosevelt's attack upon District Attorney Whitman foreshadows a Democratic victory in New York, unless, through unexpected concessions, the Progressives and Republicans fuse upon some candidate for governor other than Mr. Whitman. Tammany is well pleased, of course, with the colonel's attack upon Whitman. It would be glad to see him attack other Republicans, one by one, and thus widen the breach between Republicans and Progressives.—Washington Post.

Modern Industrialism.

Modern industrialism, with its extension of factory life, had an important influence on health. Life indoors, often accompanied by insufficient ventilation tends to lower the resisting power of the body. It is favorable to the spread of infections like tuberculosis and often, when women work in factories, the consequence is a breaking up of home life that has unfavorable physical as well as moral results.—Kansas City Star.

Department of Health.

While many more or less weighty objections have been urged against the creation of a federal department of health and the demands of prominent members of the American Medical Association for compulsory physical examination of every citizen once a year and the performance of kindred functions have been pressed against as too radical, there is surely nobody who does not glory in the magnificent work done by the public health service under direction of the Treasury Department, and favor its liberal support by Congress.—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

Just and Right.

President Wilson's decision that negroes shall be appointed to succeed negroes is just and right. It is time the Democratic party ceased trying to close the door of opportunity to a whole race.—New York World.

Niagara Falls.

Niagara is the spectacular center of the whole great system of fresh water flowing toward the Gulf of St. Lawrence. It was for a century the country's one Great Sight. No visiting foreigner dreamed of missing it; no American in foreign parts would have dared call himself an American unless he could tell how he had seen his land's greatest wonder toss its iridescent spray on high "See Niagara first" was the unformulated maxim of those earlier days—the writer himself, as a boy, heard a briskly patriotic lady refuse a trip abroad solely on the plea that she had never seen Niagara Falls!—Harper's Magazine.

Her Busy Day.

The British matron used to sit in gracious dignity, and knit, and patch her husband's duds, with earnest zeal she used to make the bread, the doughnuts and the cake, and boil the delicious spuds. But times have changed; now her eyes, she lets her household duties slide, and treads her marital path, and in that land of good roast beef, the men are full of fear and grief, and shaken by her wrath. She says that she will have to vote, if she must set the aisle afloat, to drift to Kingdom Come; she burns cathedral, hall and school, and in her dainty reticule, she packs a deadly bomb. She pokes her one price parcel through costly paintings on the wall of this or that museum; she chases statemen here and there, until they plunge, in their despair, into the sobbing sea. The king's afraid to take a walk lest some bold matron's club may knock his crown across the street; he shivers on his royal throne, and in her bower, depressed, alone, Queen Mary has cold feet. The judges send the girls to jail, and take, in fines, their modest kale, but little does it help, from Lunnun Town to John o' Groat's, the women, for their precious votes, kyoodle, shriek and yelp. So let us glad and thankful be that in this country of the free, the women are more wise; in gentlemanly style they fight, that they may gain their sacred right, the ballot, bless their eyes!

Children's Sayings

What was it your child or your neighbor's or your friend's child said yesterday or last week that made you smile or think? Children are ever saying or doing original or quaint things. Let's have them. The Advocate will be glad to receive communication along this line. Every communication must be signed but if the name is not to be printed kindly so indicate it. If you prefer, use the telephone and ask for the Children's Sayings Editor.

A brood of Plymouth Rock chicks that had been hatched some ten days were wandering around the lawn catching bugs and acting otherwise as all well conditioned chicks should do, when his mother commented to her young hopeful on the thinness of the brood by remarking: "Why, Bobby, just see how your chickens are growing! You can eat one of them in three months."

"Huh," said Bobby, "you just kill one of 'em for my supper tonight and I'll show you I can eat it in three minutes."

Emerging from a brown study, little George inquired earnestly, "Father, what does God look like?" This belonging to the class of questions that youth so freely propounds and naturists so seldom answers, the father replied, "I don't know." "Didn't you see Him," pursued George, "when you went up to get made?"

Little Willie, being a city boy, had never seen a cow. While on a visit to his grandmother he walked out across the fields with his cousin John. A cow was grazing there, and Willie's curiosity was greatly excited.

"O, Cousin John, what is that?" he asked.

"Why, that is only a cow," John replied.

"And what are those things on his head?"

"Horns," answered John.

Before they had gone far the cow moved long and loud.

Willie was astounded. Looking back, he demanded in a very fever of interest:

"Which horn did she blow?"—Exchange.

Maynard's uncle was a Mason and a Knight Templar and upon the occasion of Maynard's visit he got out his regalia for the boy's entertainment. Upon his return home he said to his mother: "Uncle showed me his beautiful uniform and his hat and his sword. You know he is a nightmare."

No Cancer "Cure" Yet.

Notwithstanding the sensational claims that have been made by unauthorized persons in behalf of Dr. Ehrlich's cancer "cure," that conscientious German scientist steadfastly refuses to extend his experiments from rats and mice to human subjects, although many sufferers have offered themselves as clinical material. "How soon we shall be able," he says, "to risk the administration of the specific to human beings it is utterly impossible to say. The chemical compound that we are now using must, in fact, be modified before its application to human cancer can be made with safety. Professor Wassermann and I are determined to avoid such distressing mistakes as occurred in the case of the discovery of tuberculosis. We intend to prevent so far as lies in our power a repetition of the events which were caused by overhaste in connection with Dr. Koch's remedy."

One of the most delightful affairs given in Newark was the vocal recital in Taylor Hall Tuesday evening, by the pupils of Mrs. J. C. Bonshire. About two hundred and fifty people were in attendance and they showed their appreciation by their close attention and hearty applause. The program included one two part song given with five voices, and another a three part song with eight voices. These voices are so full and resonant that the volume was equal to any twenty-five ordinary voices, without any effort on the part of the singers. It would be too much to make mention of every one who took part as all of them did well. Special mention, however, might be made of the more advanced pupils. These all have full voices of extended ranges and take their highest tones with as much ease as in the lower registers, without any straining or reaching for them.

Miss Helen Bader has a very rich mezzo-soprano voice, very full throughout her range, smooth and velvety in quality and sang with a great deal of ease and good expression.

Miss Mabel Anderson is also a mezzo-soprano, with a good range. She sings with a great deal of feeling and expression. Her voice is big and full, yet she took her high G's pianissimo with the greatest ease. In this she excels many fine singers who have appeared in Newark.

Miss Helen Schaller is a lyric soprano, with an unusual range, being able to vocalize from low A to F above high C. In her songs Miss Schaller sang a number of high B's and C's, but took them with such ease and in such big full tones that few in the audience realized how high she was singing. Miss Schaller's voice would sound well in opera. The young lady, no doubt, has a brilliant future before her.

The members of the Miscellaneous Needle Workers club held their annual picnic at the cottage of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Irvine at Buckeye Lake on Tuesday, June 30. The day was enjoyably spent, refreshments being served on the lawn with the tables prettily decorated with nasturtians and wild flowers.

Those present were: Mrs. Lewis Daer, Mrs. Wallace Avery, Mrs. Lewis Kastla, Mrs. Elizabeth Eage, Mrs. Willis Boggs, Mrs. Ayers, Mrs. R. A. Fink, Mrs. Elmer Wyles, Mrs. Chas. Wyant, Mrs. Spetle, Mrs. John Brodbeck, Miss Cora Irwin, Mrs. G. G. Seward, Mrs. Irwin, Mrs. John Wickham. The guests of the club were: Mrs. McMillan, Mrs. Henthorne, Mrs. Van Arsdale, Miss Gladys Ayers, Mrs. Ursal Swain, Miss Emma Boggs, Mary E. Eage, Gladys Swain, Messrs. James T. POULTON-MARTIN.
St. Michael's church at Frostburg, Md., was the scene of a pretty wedding at 9 o'clock on Tuesday morning when Miss Catherine Martin of that city became the bride of Mr. Oliver Poulton of Newark.

The pastor, Rev. Father O'Neil, sang the nuptial mass. The attendants were Miss Irene Cosgrove, cousin of the bride, of Newark, O., and Mr. James Martin, brother of the bride. The bride was dressed in white crepe de chene with trimmings of lace and pearls and she wore the full length veil of tulle caught with lilacs of the valley and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses. The bridesmaid wore white embroidered crepe with a white hat and carried pink roses.

A wedding breakfast was served at the Martin home to the members of the immediate families. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Poulton left for a trip east, visiting Philadelphia and Atlantic City. The bride's traveling suit was of Copenhagen blue crepe and she wore a Panama hat.

Mrs. Poulton is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Martin and she is a graduate of the Frostburg Normal school and for a number of years has taught in the schools at Vale Summit, Md. Mr. Poulton is a Baltimore and Ohio engineer with headquarters in Newark. He is a member of the Knights of Columbus and Elks.

CONDITION OF AUTO VICTIM IS STILL CRITICAL

Little Ralph Allen Is Semi-Conscious At Hospital but Physician Is Hopeful.

The condition of Ralph Allen, the ten year old son of Mrs. Linnie Allen of 114 North Fourth street, remains unchanged and precarious at the City Hospital, as a result of a fractured skull sustained by being knocked off his bicycle to the pavement in Elmwood avenue Thursday noon.

The fracture is at the base of the brain, on the left side, and the hemorrhage is from the ear. The fear in such cases is that a clot will form inside the skull causing a pressure that produces paralysis and death if not relieved.

For this reason the bleeding is encouraged until the fracture heals, and the blood stops from natural causes without stoppage from a clot formation. It will probably be a week or two or ten days until the child can be pronounced out of danger and there are many complications that may set in during this time.

At present the patient is not in a profound stupor all the time, but rallies occasionally and is in a semi-conscious condition. There have been no unfavorable symptoms thus far, other than those expected in an accident so serious.

Dr. U. K. Essington who is attending the case is hopeful of a recovery but of course is apprehensive and watchful for any untoward symptoms.

ALTSHOOL STORE WILL BE MOVED IN NEAR FUTURE

As soon as the new front can be completed in the room formerly occupied by the Wear-U-Well Shoe Co., three doors south of the First National bank in South Third street, the wholesale liquor store of Daniel Altshool will be removed to the former location. When the country was voted dry in 1909, the Altshool liquor store was occupying the room into which it will now be moved. For the past several years the store has been located in the new site is on one side and there is only a single show window. The door will be changed back to the middle so that there will be two show windows. Mr. Altshool expects this to be accomplished within the near future.

The Wear-U-Well shoe store has been taken over by the undertaking firm of Chlunz & Martin and will be operated in connection with their undertaking establishment in the Avalon building in West Main street.

MISS METZ IS IN CHARGE OF CO. LIBRARY

Miss Corinne Metz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Metz, of North First street, is spending her vacation with her parents here.

Miss Metz is located at The Dalles, Ore., and has charge of the Wasco County Library. The library was formerly started by Carnegie, the building having been donated by him, but it is now supported by the town and county. There are fifteen branches of the county, some of which are traveling libraries while others are established in their own buildings. Wasco is a large county, one branch of the library being 100 miles from the central one and Miss Metz has charge of all of these. The greater part of the time she is located in The Dalles, but she visits all the branches, instructs the custodians there and establishes new branches. The traveling in general is good but in many instances these branches can be reached only by traveling by stage.

Miss Metz has a vacation of six weeks, which she will spend at her home here.

LITTLE DISCUSSIONS OF LOVE AND MARRIAGE

BY BARBARA BOYD

The Day of Disgust.

The New Bride had slumped down into the big Turkish rocker in the den. Every line in her body expressed dejection. A scowl of discontent marred her pretty face.

"John just scatters cigar ashes everywhere," she thought. "And he's got papers all over the place. I never saw such an untidy man." She looked about the cozy den, her dissatisfaction growing.

"How I hate to eternally clear things up and cook and wash dishes. There's no end to it. It's the same old grind day in and out. I might have known, though, that that was what I would have to do if I got married. I wish I had never married."

She punched and twisted the toe of her slipper into the rug. "Positively this morning, I felt as if I just loathed John and wondered why I ever married him. When he sat there and gobbled breakfast down without saying a word and then rushed off, I felt as if I never wanted to see him again."

Her face grew serious. "That's dreadful," she mused. "I know I don't mean that. I wonder if everybody has days when they feel that way about the people they live with." Her face suddenly contracted. "I wonder if John ever feels that way about me?"

The thought was sobering. "It would just kill me if he should tell me anything like that, or—if he thought it. But maybe he does. Maybe he is tired of being married. Maybe he hates to work in the garden and mow the lawn and carry up the coal. Maybe he thinks there is no end to that for him."

She seemed to sink farther and farther into the chair, and to grow more and more dejected.

Then gradually her face brightened. "Suppose he does have times like that. Suppose he does think that about me once in a while. Am I not thinking that about him now? And yet I know that I love him, and that if I thought I would never see him again, I would want to die right off. And I know if I didn't have this home to fuss around in and to make pretty I would be miserably unhappy. I've got the blues or indigestion or something, that's what the matter. I'm getting into a rut and it's affecting my appetite for housework. I am giving myself a monotonous diet in the way of living, and it kills, the same as a monotonous diet in the matter of eating takes the appetite."

She sat up energetically. "I am going to leave everything as it is," she thought, "and go for a trolley ride through the fields and over the hills. I'll get lunch at some little country hotel."

She jumped up, dressed with all the excitement of preparing for a lark and hurried away. She came back at four o'clock, her cheeks pink, her eyes bright, her lips smiling. She trotted about the little house, straightening it up. She hummed as she cooked the most delicious dinner she knew how.

And when the New Bridegroom came home, she put her arms lovingly about him and said, "You poor, tired dear. I just wish you could run away from that horrid office for a little picnic, or a lark of some kind. Don't work in the garden tonight. Let's go take a walk. It's full moon and the air is sweet with honeysuckle."

PLENTY OF AMUSEMENT ON FOURTH

The Fourth of July this year, falling as it does on Saturday, giving all the advantage of two consecutive holidays, will be a gala day, and few there are who have not planned for some sort of an outing.

For Newark the greatest interest centers in the automobile races which will be given at Moundbuilders park in the afternoon. Five entries have been made, for the 75-mile race, and the purses for the winners aggregate $1500. Races were given last year and proved big drawing cards and a greater number of entries will take part this year.

Never has there been such an exodus of pleasure seekers to Buckeye Lake Park. As early as Wednesday it was an impossibility to secure any sort of a cottage at the Lake, and the rooms at the various hotels have been engaged for over a week in advance. On Thursday evening the pavilions were crowded and each car was filled with cottagers and their luggage. The members of the Buckeye Lake Yacht club housed in their up to date new club house, have planned one of the biggest racing cards ever given. The regatta will start early in the morning and continue throughout the day.

Black Hand and picnic rock will be a mecca for picnickers as will the Lake, where arrangements have been made to show motion pictures and a display of fireworks will be given in the evening.

For the baseball fan a number of amateur games have been scheduled for both the morning and afternoon. Manager Will D. Harris and his able assistant, Bernard Smith, have arranged a special program for patrons of Buckeye Lake Park tomorrow and there promises to be plenty of amusement for all. The Ohio Electric promise good accommodations and the crowd at the park undoubtedly will be a record breaker.

NEGRO KILLS 8 WITH A SHORT HANDLED AXE

Branchville, Texas, July 3.—Sholl Mannings, a negro, killed eight other negroes here today with a short handled axe, because he suspected they had charged him with horse theft.

Trace this week when arrested in small towns near here, on such a charge Mannings broke jail. He arrived here today before daylight. After the killing he was arrested, but escaped from the train enroute to the jail. Poses are searching for him.

Secret of a Sign Painter.
Sign painters do not usually achieve fame, but there was one in the last century who did achieve a curiously long lived bit of work. This was the man who painted a station sign at Harpers Ferry, shortly after the completion of the railway line to that point. The sign is in possession of a western society of engineers.

For a long time the society endeavored to ascertain who painted the paint and applied it to the sign, which was placed in position at the Harpers Ferry station about forty years ago. Summer's heat and winter's storms in no way dimmed the luster of the paint used to make the words "Harpers Ferry." They stand out as boldly as the day they were formed by the painter's brush. The wood around the letters has been worn about a sixteenth of an inch by sand beaten against it by heavy winds, but the letters have withstood the elements. It is asserted that no paint manufactured nowadays is equal in durability to that which was applied to the old sign.

For a long time, but without success, the society tried to learn the identity of this humble artist.—Boston Post.

Her Angel Child.
Mother's darling, aged four, was not to be like other boys and learn to use naughty and slangy words. He was not allowed to play with the other boys in the neighborhood for fear his sensitive nature might be shocked at the language they used. One day while mother was busy he slipped over into the next street and played for half an hour with a crowd of other boys. In that half hour he took a complete course in modern language.

On his return mother said: "Where has my precious been?" "You should worry and get a wrinkle," he cheerfully replied.

"Dearest, tell mother where you learned such horrible language!" mother exclaimed.

"A w. good night, shirt," came sweetly from the cupid boy mouth.

Then mother commenced to weep, for she realized that her angel child was just a boy after all.—Kansas City Star.

Good Advice.

"Well?"

IRON TRADE REVIEW.
Cleveland, O., July 3.—The Iron Trade Review says: Agricultural implement manufacturers are showing greater desire to contract for their steel bar requirements and are doing their best to get a price of 1.10c, Pittsburgh, on annual contracts. Mills are, however, resting the granting of this price, except on material for prompt shipment. On 700 tons required at Toledo, for prompt shipment, the 1.10c price was made by several mills. Foundries are actively contracting for their coke requirements, in some cases for six months and in other cases for a year.

The closing of sheet mills on account of the failure to agree on a new wage scale may have an important effect on the market if continued for any considerable length of time. Bar iron mills are closed pending adjustment of the wage controversy.

CONGRESS IS TRYING TO BE ECONOMICAL

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.
Washington, July 3.—[Special.]—Hereafter economy is to be practiced by the present session of congress. There is to be no public building bill until next winter. By that time the elections will have taken place, and the forty or fifty million dollars which go into a public building bill will not be used to swell the total of the appropriations of the present year.

There is considerable disappointment among members of congress who have promised certain towns in their districts that they shall have public buildings, but the leaders have decreed otherwise. "They won't let us," remarked Chairman Clark of the public building committee when asked if there would be a bill. He did not say who "they" were, but it is naturally inferred that the group would include Speaker Clark, Leader Underwood, Chairman Fitzgerald, of the appropriations committee, A. Mitchell Palmer of Pennsylvania, Swager Sherley of Kentucky and perhaps a few others who are trying to keep down the appropriations to the lowest possible limit.

Sharp Contest in Sight.
An amendment has been proposed to the sundry civil appropriation bill in the senate appropriating $500,000 for a building for the government exhibit at the San Francisco exposition. This is going to mean a very sharp contest because the representatives of California promised that there would be no government expense attached to the location of the exposition in San Francisco.

On the other hand, the people of California think that if the government is going to make an exhibit it ought to erect its buildings just as the states and other governments are doing. The house has never been enthusiastic about expositions and has always yielded with reluctance on appropriations for this purpose, consequently there will be a stiff fight before the San Francisco item is allowed.

Not Faint Hearted.
Chairman Fitzgerald of the appropriations committee is not entirely stone hearted, although members of the appropriation committee characterize him as being the watchdog of the treasury. Not long since a question came up about an appropriation for a park in Oklahoma. An attempt was made to defeat the appropriation. Congressman Page of North Carolina saying that the state of Oklahoma refused to take the park as a gift, but that they insisted that the government should pay out money every year to maintain it.

In answer to a question as to why this money was allowed Chairman Fitzgerald said: "We had to give it to them. The pitiful wail that went up from Oklahoma that the government property was being destroyed, mutilated and misappropriated and that some patriotic citizens were serving the government without pay was too much."

A Western Idea of the Indians.
Senator Mark Smith of Arizona talked discouragingly about the ultimate civilization of the Indians. "A beautiful theory hangs around the Indian," he told the senate, "and people living in the east all their lives are apt to get familiar with the tribe of Peumore Cooper Indians that never did exist and form their opinions on that theory. Take this one thing of educating the Indian—let him sing a song, throwing him forcibly, if you please, through a schoolhouse, and then, because he can read, thinking you have an elevated citizen."

The Arizona senator said that taking the Indians from their reservations and educating them and letting them go back home was ruinous and it was worse for the Indians. Senator Townsend of Michigan, who has an idea that the Indians have been badly treated, said that if he held the same opinion as Mark Smith he would be much discouraged about the Indians.

Delighted His Yankee Soul.
During discussion over the sale of the Idaho and Mississippi, to be replaced by a big battleship, Congressman Gardner of Massachusetts said: "How any one can haggle over this for a moment I do not know. This trade delights my Yankee soul."

Directness of the Speaker.
There is one thing about Champ Clark and that is that he always endeavors to straighten out parliamentary tangles and quibbles rather than to tie the house up in a bowknot. Heretofore many speakers have endeavored to block political opponents by a technicality of the rules, but that isn't the way with Speaker Clark. One day in replying to Progressive Leader Murdock, who was sticking for a technicality, Champ said, "The chair does not think it amounts to a barrow which way the vote upon this question is put," and over the protest of Murdock he had his way.

Austrian Mother May Claim Throne for Her Little American Son

Mrs. Alma Vetsera Hayne, who insists she is the daughter of Archduke Rudolph of Austria and Marie Vetsera and now the grass widow of an American broker, may claim the throne of Austria for her little son Rudolph Vetsera Hayne, since the assassination of the Archduke Franz Ferdinand.

By choice of the aged emperor, Franz Josef, now in his 84th year, and believed to be dying, Archduke Karl Franz Josef, nephew of the murdered archduke, becomes the heir to the throne. Franz Josef has stood like adamant against the official recognition of illegitimate unions in the Hapsburg family. He would not for a moment consider Alma Vetsera, even if she were to prove she were the daughter of his son.

Mr. and Mrs. George Barber entertained the following guests Sunday: Mr. Harley Shirk and family, heaved to be near, Austria and Hungary and the conglomeration of races which make up the empire, may become seriously disturbed. At least Mrs. Hayne will likely take the chance.

Mrs. Hayne, a beautiful young Austrian, who first came to this side of the water some twelve years ago, asserts that she is the child of the tragic love affair of Rudolph and Marie Vetsera, and her husband, from whom she is now divorced said a year or two ago that he believed she was the "truest of all the Hapsburgs."

She returned to this country on June 5, on the Aquitania's maiden trip, with her little son, who is named Rudolph, after the prince whom Mrs. Hayne claims as her father. At that time she told passengers on the ship that she had abandoned the title of "Princess Vetsera," and that she expected to leave Paris and London for many years, in order that her boy could be educated in America.

She herself has had a rather romantic time of it. She was married in 1907, in Toronto, to a stockbroker named George Osburne Hayne, but about three years later she met Justin B. Macdougall, son of a Canadian Colliery capitalist, was mentioned in a complaint Hayne filed with his wife's lawyer. This difficulty, however, was adjusted, for Macdougall's father has his son arrested in Chicago in November, 1911, while Justin was hurrying east to marry Mrs. Hayne. The young man was put in an asylum, and Hayne read about it in the newspapers, and went around to the Hotel Marlton, in West Eighth street, New York City, to effect a reconciliation with his wife.

Last January Mrs. Hayne got a divorce from her husband in New Jersey.

How to get the most from a pound of coffee

First, get a coffee that has been properly selected.
Next, it must be roasted by experts under perfect conditions. Skillful roasting brings out the full delicacy of the natural flavor. Unskillful roasting spoils the flavor and causes a heavy and wasteful loss in weight.

SOME DON'TS

Never buy coffee from an exposed bin and always keep it covered in your own kitchen, as coffee absorbs odors and flavors as quickly as does butter.

Never allow coffee to stand on the grounds. This is what makes it bitter. Pour it off into another pot as soon as made.

Never put the cream into the cup first. The hot coffee cooks it.

Finally, coffee must be packed in a way that will keep it fresh, and protect it from outside odors, and from moisture.

In Arbuckles' Coffee you get all these advantages. You get a coffee properly selected; skillfully and uniformly roasted; then guarded from moisture and odors in special, sanitary, sealed packages.

Every package of Arbuckles' Coffee has the full strength and fine flavor. If you haven't used it lately, do so now. See what big value you get for your money—how the delicious flavor will please and satisfy. Order a package from your grocer today.

Fourth of July Sentiments

FOR to give up essential liberty to obtain a little temporary safety is to deserve neither liberty nor safety.—Benjamin Franklin.

ONE free man must possess more virtue and enjoy more hap-piness than a thousand slaves.—Samuel Adams.

UNDOUBTEDLY, sir, the battle is not to the strong alone. It is to the vigilant, the active, the brave.—Patrick Henry.

REMEMBER that Providence would not permit us to be called into this controversy until we were grown up to our present strength.—Dickinson.

THE God who raised up Washington and gave you liberty exacts from you the duty of cherishing it with a zeal according to knowledge.—J. M. Mason.

HERE must we ask: What is patriotism? Is it a narrow affec-tion for the spot where a man was born? No, sir; this is not the character of the virtue. It soars higher.—Fisher Ames.

OBSEERVE good faith to and cultivate peace with all nations; shut off every avenue to foreign influence; rely on yourselves only.—Henry Lee.

FRIENDS, I should advise persistency in our struggle for liberty though it was revealed from high heaven that nine hundred and ninety-nine were to perish and only one of a thousand to survive and enjoy his liberty.—Samuel Adams.

JUSTICE, equal and exact, to all men, of whatever state of per-suasion, religious or political.—Thomas Jefferson.

UNLESS we all hang together, assuredly we shall all hang sep-arately.—Benjamin Franklin.

LET truth be thy aim in all debate, not victory or an unjust in-terest, and endeavor to gain rather than to expose thy adver-sary.—William Penn.

YOU and I should also be ready to take the field whenever danger calls. Let us be united.—Alexander Hamilton.

Contrasts in Mexico.

Perhaps nowhere else in the world is there a country so full of contrasts as Mexico. Here you will see a Mexican halfbreed barefooted wearing a dollar pair of trousers, a fifty cent shirt and a ten dollar sombrero. There at a single glance and within the length of a sin-gle city block you may see an Indian cargador, a donkey cart, an oxcart, a carriage, a railroad train, a street car and a motorcar—almost every type of locomotion since Adam. You may tread the burning sands of a tropical desert with a wet of perpetual snow of tower-ing mountains still upon your shoes. You may take a single railway journey of thirty-six hours in which the people you see at the railroad station will be dressed in four different weights of clothing. Everywhere you turn there is contrast, high lights and deep shad-ows.—William Joseph Showalter in Na-tional Geographic Magazine.

Result of Rashness.

"Out of a job, are you?" asked the first girl. "Boss catch you fitting?" "No; I caught the boss. Say, what sort of a wedding dress do you think is real swell?"—Philadelphia Ledger.

Souvenir Spoons.

"My dear Gladys, what are all these photographs of young men you have?" "Those? Oh, they're only my collec-tion of souvenir spoons!"—Baltimore American.

The way to fame is like the way to heaven—through much tribulation.—Laurence Sterne.

History as She Is Wrote.

A text book of history, written by one Ilajavski, for Russian schools, con-tains some extraordinary statements, among them these, which the London Star translates:

"Louis XVI. was a peaceable and gentle monarch, who, in the course of his long reign, showed himself par-ticularly skillful in finding expert min-isters of finance. Loved and honored by his people, the aged monarch died suddenly after a glorious reign as the result of a fit of apoplexy. He was succeeded by his son, Louis XVII., who was obliged to conduct several wars, wherein the captain of his hosts, the royal marshal, Napoleon Bonaparte, conquered a great part of Eu-rope for his king. Napoleon, however, abused his power and made a public attempt to rebel against his liege lord and to compass his own ambitious ends. Under the leadership of Alex-ander I, king and autocrat of all the Russias, the general was deposed, de-prived of all his honors and dignities and all claims to pension. He was banished to St. Helena."

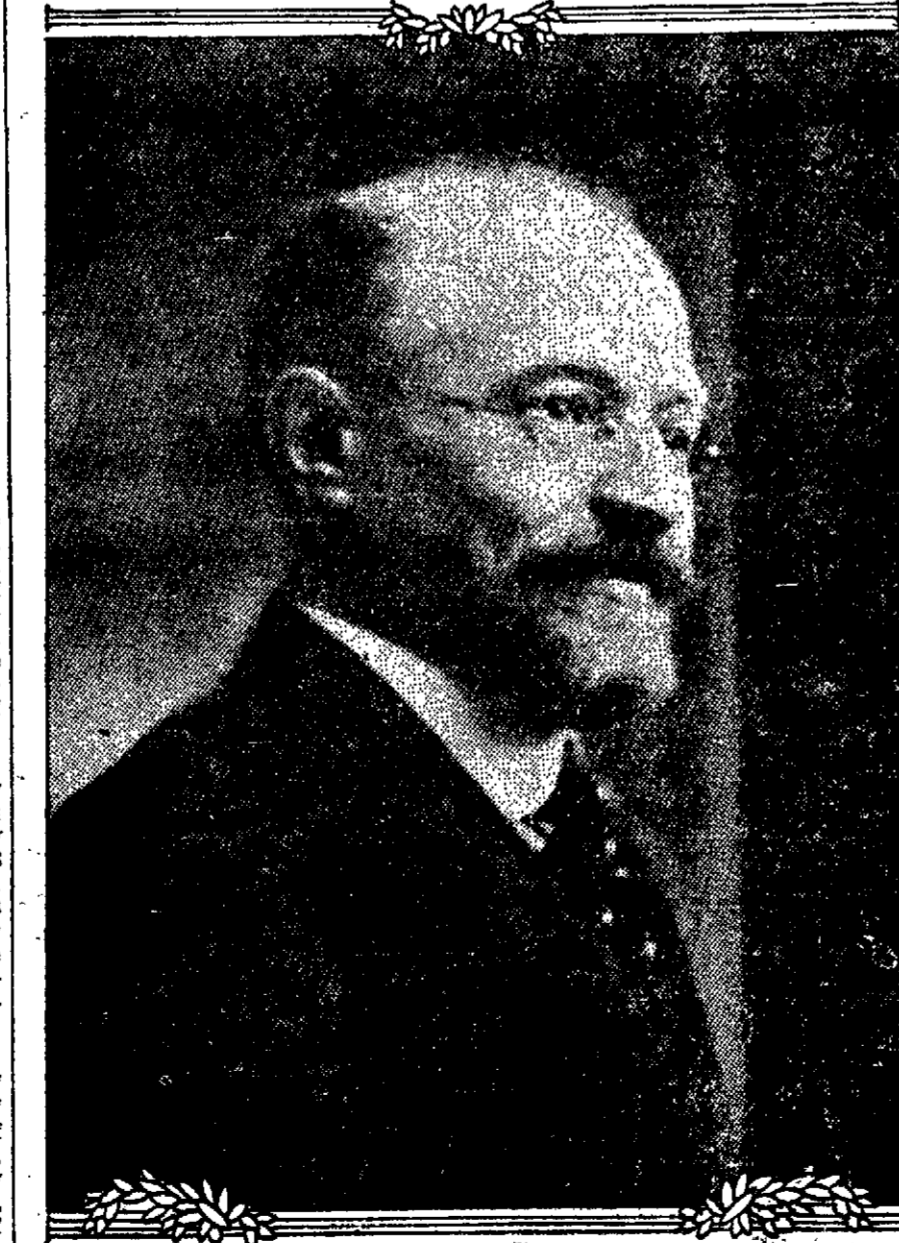

Corrected.

He—Darling, refuse me, and I shall never love another girl. She (briskly)—What I want is a man who will promise me that if I accept him.—Judge.

Doesn't Suffer Much.

"Does your wife suffer in silence?" "Yes, and I am sorry. If she did not suffer in silence perhaps she would be silent oftener."—Houston Post.

Noted Authority on Immigration to Lecture Here During the Chautauqua

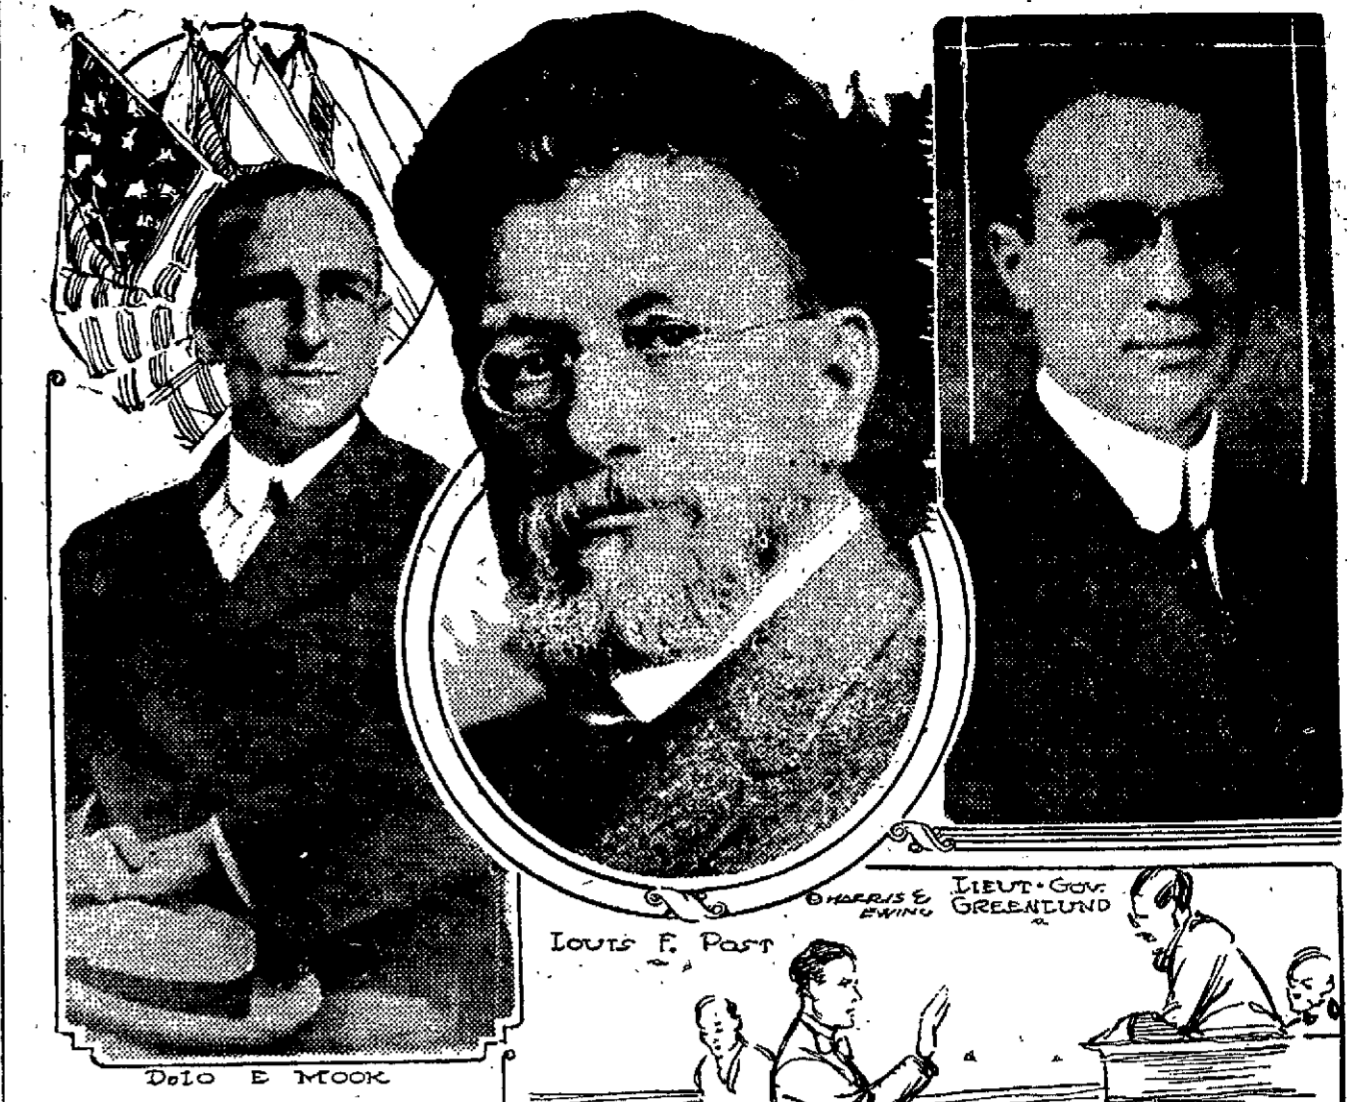

DR. EDWARD A. STEINER.

BORN in Austria, educated in Bohemia, Germany and Russia and at present the head of the department of Applied Christianity in Iowa college is the record of Dr. Edward A. Steiner. He is an author, educator and lecturer—"A man with a message."

Dr. Steiner has studied first hand the subjects on which he lectures, and his appearance here during Chautauqua week will be one of the program's most beneficial features. He is epigrammatic and witty. Social inconsisten-cies and racial hypocrisies vanish before his attack.

Among the many books written by Dr. Steiner are "The Trail of the Im-migrant," "Tolstoid the Man," "The Mediator" and "The Parable of the Cher-ries." He is a foremost authority on immigration.

HAND OF WELCOME TO FIFTEEN NATIONALITIES EXTENDED BY CLEVELAND AS FEATURE OF SANE FOURTH PROGRAM

Two thousand newly naturalized Americans are welcomed into Ameri-can fellowship as part of the cele-bration of Cleveland's fifth bloodless Fourth of July. The plan is being worked out by Lieutenant Governor William A. Greenlund and D. E. Mock, president and secretary of the sane Fourth organization. Louis F. Post, assistant secretary of labor, will address the mass meeting which follows the reception. The program of an all day program of holiday events replaces the miscellaneous use of fire works and firearms which was common in Cleveland prior to 1909, the last three years.

First Omnibus.

"Omnibus" was an almost brand new word in its modern sense when Shillibeer took it from the French in 1829, and in France the name pos-sessed a special significance for those who knew their history, for from 1672 to 1676 Paris had already seen a reg-ular service of roomy public vehicles, "carrosses a cinq sous." Only these predecessors of the modern bus were not "omnibus" for all. The letters patent which instituted them for the benefit of middle class people laid down that they were not to be used by soldiers, lackeys or any other wearers of livery or artisans and laborers. These exclusive vehicles faded out of existence, and the new ones, which were started in Paris in 1828, were named "omnibus" expressly to signify their democratic character.—London Chronicle.

Where the Road Is Water.

Writing of a tour of Holland, Arnold Bennett in the Century says: "After a few weeks I began to per-ceive that Schiedam and similar places, though thriving, were not the whole of Holland and perhaps not the most rep-resentative of Holland. As the yacht worked northward Holland seemed to grow more Dutch until in the chain of shallow lakes and channels that hold Friesland in a sort of permanent bap-tism we came to what was for me the ideal or celestial Holland—everything done by water, even grass cut under water, and black and white cows milk-ed in the midst of ponds and wind-mills over the eternal fatness used ex-clusively to shift inconvenient water from one level to another. The road is water in Friesland, and all the world is on the road. If your approach to a town is made perilous by a succession of barges that will obstinately keep the middle of the channel you know that it is market day in that town and the farmers are rolling home in agreeable inebriation."

Batthyany's Black Pearl.

There is a curious story of the pre-cious black pearl which Count Louis Batthyany, the Hungarian revolution-ist, wore in his scarfpin. Sentenced to death for his part in the rising of 1849, he gave the scarfpin to the valet who attended him in prison. The valet questioned it to his son, and the son de-cided to sell it. It was taken to Buda-pest to be valued, and there exhibited in a jeweler's shop window. Crowds assembled to stare at it, and the sus-picions of the Austrian police were aroused. They instituted a rigorous inquiry and discovered, to their amaze-ment, that the pearl had been stolen from the crown of England 150 years before. The British government bought it back, but no one has been able to discover by what means it had passed into the possession of the Bat-thyany family.

Maggis as the Scotch make it. To make maggis take the heart, tongue and small liver of the sheep, one pound of bacon, four ounces of crumbs of bread, the rind of one lemon, two eggs, two anchovies (sardines may be used), a quarter of a teaspoonful of pepper and two teaspoonfuls of salt. Chop the heart, tongue, liver and bac-on, mix thoroughly, add the bread-crumbs, the anchovies, chopped fine; the lemon rind, grated; then the pepper and salt. Pack this into a kettle or mold, cover and boil or steam continuously for two hours. Turn it on a dish and serve very hot.

ROMANCE BORN ACROSS OCEAN IS ENDED HERE

Husband Would Free Wife Who Loves Another—Six Months Honey-moon in Old Country Enough.

A romance which saw its beginning in Austria Hungary some years ago, found its ending in a divorce petition filed by Attorney Joseph Horner in Probate court, Friday. "Another man" enters into the case, according to the plaintiff's affidavit.

Berta and Margarita Molnar—said to be no relation of the celebrated Molnar who wrote "The Devil"—were married in their native town in Austria Hungary, May 2, 1910, after a long courtship. All went well for six months, says Berta, until his wife found another she liked better, then she deserted him and came to America.

Berta followed her to this side of the Atlantic, and repeatedly asked her to return to him, but she replied her love had grown cold. Her exact words, says Berta, were: "I don't care anything for you; I love another man."

So, Berta remained here to establish a legal residence, and now seeks a decree of divorce in order that Margarita may be free to marry the "other man" whom she said she loved.

FELL 25 FEET FROM TREE AND IS BADLY HURT

Joseph Franick, age 18, fell 25 feet out of a large walnut tree at 11:15 o'clock Friday morning, fracturing his skull. His chances for recovery are good if concussion does not set in. The accident occurred at a Swan's blacksmith shop on the pike east of the city.

Franick is employed at the Heisey glass factory, and was accompanied by his brother John and Joe Semie. For an unknown reason he climbed the walnut tree. He lost his hold and fell striking his head against the trunk of the tree in his fall. The ambulance of Criss Brothers was summoned, and he was taken immediately to the Sanitarium where his injuries were attended by Dr. J. G. Shier. A large Y-shaped cut was on the right side of the unfortunate young man's skull, and it was necessary to lay the skin back to locate the fracture. In one spot the skull is slightly depressed, but no serious results are anticipated if this does not result in concussion, which is not probable as the young man bled profusely before he arrived at the Sanitarium.

His father is Joseph Franick, farmer, residing opposite Swan's blacksmith shop, three miles east of the city.

BAPTISTS YOUNG PEOPLE'S UNION IN CONVENTION

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Kansas City, July 3.—The Young People's Union is a shop in which we train apprentice Christians," said L. P. Leavelle of Oxford, Miss., today in an address before the twenty-first convention of the Baptist Young People's Union of America, meeting jointly with the Baptist Young People's Union of the South.

"From this shop we graduate young men and women after they have served their apprenticeship, as journeyman Christians skilled in their work having the initiative and the knowledge of church affairs that makes for a successful church," Mr. Leavelle said, "after all capable of being of service and of imparting their knowledge to others."

Following the address yesterday of Rev. Geo. P. Beers, of Baltimore in which he expressed the hope that B. Y. P. U. of the north, south and Canada, might be combined, rumors have been current that such a union of the organizations would be effected at this meeting.

However, according to Frank L. Anderson, of Chicago, president of the B. Y. P. U. of America and Dr. W. W. Hamilton of Lynchburg, Va., president of the B. Y. P. U. of the south, the convention is not a deliberative body and no formal action can be taken toward such a union.

The church as a field for the study of life was portrayed by Rev. George A. Briggs of Buffalo.

"The church is superior to the lodge, the school or any other organization that makes a social appeal because its group is like the home group," he said, "it is made up of members from the babies to the gray haired elders. In it there is an opportunity to view life from every angle and as a school of life it is unequalled."

CLUTE CASE MAY GET TO THE JURY BEFORE TONIGHT.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Albany, N. Y., July 3.—The fate of the Malcolm Gifford, Jr., of Hudson, on trial for the murder of Frank J. Clute, will probably rest with the jury tonight. William Travers Jerome summed up the defendant's defense this morning and District Attorney Alexander was present for his final argument during the afternoon.

"An impenetrable mystery was the way Mr. Jerome characterized the entire case.

"The man or men who set out to get Clute," he continued, "got him and never gave him a show for his life. Can you honestly attribute this atrocious crime to a youth barely turned 17 years old when Clute died?"

Several churches in the West are heated with electricity.

GENERAL HUERTA'S HOME IN MEXICO CITY, WITH AUTO WAITING IN FRONT FOR HIS FLIGHT

General Huerta, knowing since the fall of Zacatecas that his end as ruler in Mexico was near, had prepared for his flight. One of the latest reports is that he had sent his children from the city. For some time an automobile has remained in front of the home, and while his friends have denied it was there for the purpose of carrying him off, others are satisfied that it was there for such an emergency.

Huerta has spent very little time at the castle of Chapultepec, the old home of Diaz. That is too far off for him, too far for the cafes which he loves in the evening. It was also too far for quick calls to his cabinet. It has been Huerta's habit to send for his counsellors any time of night or day. Should he leave hurriedly he will undoubtedly go in the automobile which has waited for him for weeks. He may make his way to Vera Cruz, where he would throw himself on the mercy of General Funston, or to Puerto Mexico, a port still under the control of his government.

Crockett Wouldn't Have Maggie.

The first school the late S. R. Crockett attended was the Free Church school in the village of Laurieston, of that parish, distant three miles from his home. When he was a very wee chap "Sam" used to be accompanied to school by Maggie—a girl somewhat older than himself, who was supposed to look after him. Their daily appearance together led one of the villagers to say to him one day as the couple passed her door: "Man, Sam, I think ye'll be mairryin' Maggie some day; ye're aye together." "Mairry Maggie?" was the indignant boy's response. "She disna ken the names o' the kings o' Israel yet!" The lady whose suggestion to the future novelist was so contemptuously received often recalled the incident with amusement. — Westminster Gazette.

Last year a school superintendent in a small Ohio town received a catalog from the Cleveland Home Gardening association. This is an association that furnishes garden seeds at one cent per packet, generally to public school pupils. She thought the catalog would not interest her boys and girls, so she destroyed it. This year the catalog was again received. This time it was taken to the school. At once it excited the interest of the pupils. They asked the teacher to send in their orders for them. This was done and it was found later that 265 packets of seeds, mostly flower, had been ordered. This was done in a school enrolling fewer than thirty pupils. It is not difficult to enlist the help of children in trying to improve the appearance of the home, if such matters are only brought to their attention.

The world would be happier if the average woman was as much afraid of gossip as she is of a mouse.
